Art Unit: 2829

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-10 are drawn to a probe station for high resolution, low current probing of a DUT, classified in class 324, subclass 751.
- II. Claims 11-14 are, drawn to a probe station for testing a specimen, classified in class 324, subclass 754.
- III. Claims 15 and 16 are, drawn to a method for precision low current probing of a DUT, classified in class 324, subclass 754.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:

Inventions I and II in a first set and III in a second set are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product such as the obvious method of using the product of claim 1.

Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination does not require all of the details of the subcombination and at least claim 1 serves as an evidence claim that such is the case. The subcombination has separate utility such as by itself for its intended purpose or in a different combination.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Any inquiry concerning this communication should be directed to Ernest F. Karlsen at telephone number 571-272-1961.
